

Enchanted

Mystical Bottles

Start your very own magical collection with these cute mystical bottles. Once the bottle is capped you then hold the power of that item within.

Well not exactly, but that's where a little imagination comes in. Glitter becomes fairy dust, confetti becomes scales... etc, let your ideas run wild.

Instructions found at oscn.nz/files/mysticalbottles.pdf

Dragon Eyes

Paint up the back of a flat glass marble to mimic the look of a dragon's eye, a few layers of acrylic and you're done.

Instructions found at oscn.nz/files/dragoneyes.pdf

Dragon Eggs

From the depths of the fire came the most marvellous of items... Dragons eggs.

These eggs are easy to make simply with a polystyrene shape and some carefully placed push pins. This craft can be done by most ages and look very effective.

Instructions found at oscn.nz/files/dragoneggs.pdf

Jar Fairy House

Even the smallest of mythical creatures needs a home. Make one of these and while you sleep fairies and elves will move in.

A jar is all you need to get started, add some tape to form the mushroom top and then paint it up.

Instructions found at oscn.nz/files/jarfairyhouse.pdf

Fairy Flowers

These are great little additions to any magical landscape (especially the above fairy house).

Twisted wire is coated with a PVA glitter mix, it's that simple.

Instructions found at oscn.nz/files/fairyflowers.pdf

Corrugated Card

Corrugated Art

Reveal the layers to create this unique cardboard art.

Use any design you wish to mark out the shape you want, then remove the top layer of the card to create depth and shadow. This craft can be a little harder than others so is better suited to a slightly older age of children.

Instructions found at oscn.nz/files/corrugatedart.pdf

Cardboard Cities

Rome wasn't built in a day... but your very own mini cardboard city can be. This is a great craft to do with groups, everyone can contribute their own buildings to help make the city.

All it takes is imagination, some cardboard and tape. Use the card to make simple rectangular shapes, cut out doors, add windows and any other additions then you're done.

Instructions found at oscn.nz/files/cardboardcities.pdf

Curled Frames

What better way to frame a photo than with a real piece of art.

Make a frame using corrugated card, then use the offcuts (and possibly more) to make curled patterns and designs.

Instructions found at oscn.nz/files/curledframes.pdf

Faux Cactus

Ever forget to water your plants? Well now you don't have to. Try your hand at this cute little version of a faux cactus.

Create the shapes out of corrugated card, decorate them and then slot them together.

Instructions found at oscn.nz/files/fauxcactus.pdf

Links

Check out the OSCN craft page oscn.nz/activities for more ideas

Check our pinterest page pinterest.nz/jooscn