

Crafty Easter

Fingerprint Chicks

Fingerprints make for a great base on many crafts. This craft takes a small yellow fingerprint and turns it into a cute Easter themed artwork.

A painted landscape forms the base of the artwork, then adding small details to the yellow fingerprints you get a cute scene of chicks.

Easter Treats

Rice Bubble Easter Eggs

Rice bubble treats are a great addition to any party. Add an egg shaped mould and this classic treat becomes one fit for Easter.

The basic recipe uses only four basic ingredients - butter, rice bubbles, marshmallows and gel food colouring. All the ingredients are mixed together then molded into eggs.

Bunny Print Cookies

Cookies always make for a tasty snack. This recipe takes a basic cookie recipe and shapes them into bunny paw prints.

Make them for your own delight or package them up and gift them.

Hot Cross Scones

Add some colour this Easter with these yummy hot cross scones.

A scone base is mixed with sprinkles to add some colourful magic to these morsels. Add an icing cross to the top and then you have made your very own adaptation of the hot cross bun.

Bonus - ANZAC Crafts

ANZAC Poppy

Red poppies have been an icon for ANZAC since the early 20th century. The poppy is used as a mark of respect to remember those who fell during the world wars.

This craft is to make a simple red poppy that can be used on its own to remember or combined in other ANZAC crafts of remembrance .

Peg Soldiers

Wooden pegs can make many cute characters. In this case they are used to create mini replicas of the brave soldiers of the wars.

A wooden peg is the base of the craft, then using coloured yarn or string to make the outfit. Add a few more little details to finish it off.

ANZAC Wreath

During many ANZAC ceremonies a wreath is often placed as a sign of respect. Traditionally they were made from laurel branches but ours uses a few basic craft resources.

The base of the wreath is made from a card circle covered with paper poppies to create a beautiful wreath.

ANZAC Rock Craft

Wanting a more permanent craft to commemorate ANZAC well this is just the thing.

Taking a rock and decorating it with a fingerprint poppy and a personalised message makes for an individualised item to remember those who fought for our freedom.
